SURREALISM

Contemplation and Solicitude

DEEP . . . DEEp . . . DEep . . . Deep . . . deep . . .

While I sleep, what will I dream?

Not Yet

Some shadows . . . some bushes . . . a piece of paper and a fragment of someone. All trying to be a separable element of our ever changing world. Maybe next time he can say: "I will not falter because I failed at first. I must keep on pushing until I am completely 'in' this complex world."

STOP!!!

GO!!!

EMPTINESS: SOMETIMES LIKE OUR MINDS: We seem to think meaningless thoughts and we seem to dream unoccupied dreams. When will we awaken and brighten the dark pathways to our minds? When will we stop feeling sorry for ourselves? The time was not Yesterday. The time will not be Tomorrow. The time is Now. Wake up people! Wake up!

The coldness that we feel sometimes does not have to be the type of physical coldness that we show, but it could be the extreme mental coldness that so many of us possess.

He is almost there. Will he make it? Can any of us be sure that we will make it? Keep trying and ONE DAY, ONE DAY ONE DAY

"Some men see things as they are and say why. I dream things that never were and say, why not?"

Robert Kennedy

The moment is beautiful and we're happy. Laughter rings out and surrounds us with a wall that only sudden sadness can pierce. In our happiness we find humor in a thousand things. We giggle at the ridiculously sublime, and we smile the soft, ever changing smile of one who is content. We find time to share a joke, to exchange a friendly greeting in the hall, to make witty remarks in every class, which are unheard by any teacher. We also feel a special yet puzzling, quiet joy in accomplishing and at reaching such goals as we have.

We can't always be happy. The events of our swift moving world can crowd down on us, pressures develop, and we are frustrated, moody, and angry. We become disgusted with the world, lonely when we are not understood, and edgy about our responsibilities. We holler loudest when we flunk a test we didn't study for, yet we sit strangely silent in the solemn stillness of graduation. We finally realize the reality of our dreams.

AS THEY DREAM THEIR DREAMS . . .

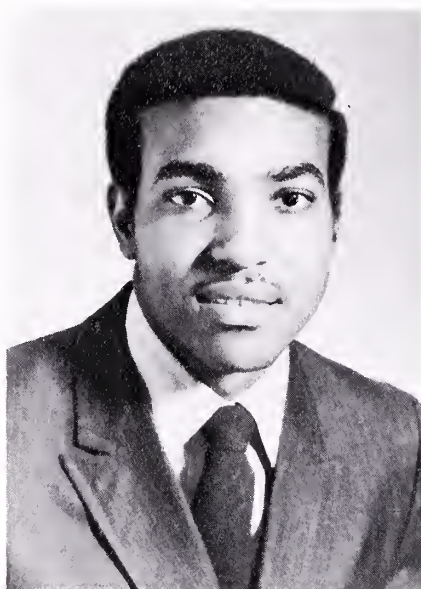

... REALITY

To hope for opportunity to avail itself is the greatest dream of any student. When there are not enough chances to meet the needs of every diligent student, there makes another light of possible advance. Here branches a great image, a great expectation. This is the road of the Juniors. It is an example to the four years of hard work and dedication to the cause of graduation. As juniors they expect to receive the honest respect that comes with the expectations of the coming years. Planning to conquer the marsh and cure the evils of obstacles that may chance to impede the pathway to seniority. Yesterday was the beginning, today is the gateway, tomorrow is the dream.

Lunch anyone?

Sophomores are In-betweens. They are not quite big kids, but not that small, either. Three-year veterans, they realize the pleasures and hardships that come with being upperclassmen. Understanding that more is expected of them, they set higher goals and strive to fulfill them. Bringing fresh ideas and a willingness to work, they assume more responsible leadership in school life.

Confident of the challenge, the sophomores study to improve their abilities they possess. They become more involved in school activities by joining clubs and contributing to their success.

With hard work and motivation, the sophomores go forward to secure their dreams. These along with imagination, faith, and hope assure the arrival of success.

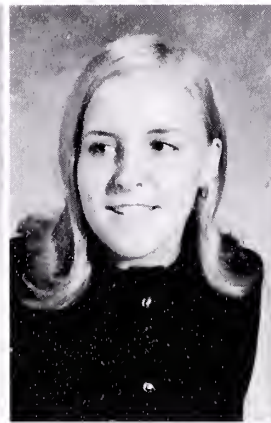

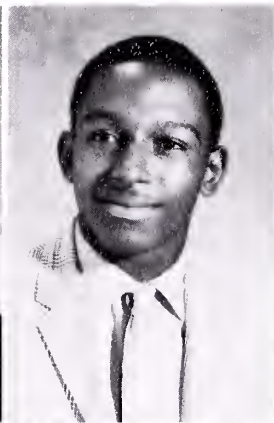

AS THEY DREAM THEIR DREAMS . . .

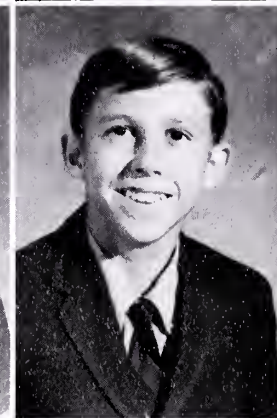

... HOPE

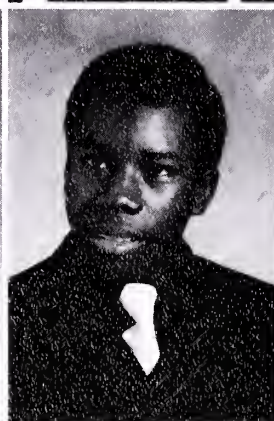

At last, we can go home.

Many people wonder about the backbone of a school. The dictionary defines "backbone" as the main support. The main support of students is often the faculty. They try their best to help students to understand the fundamentals of their particular subject. Whether they push too hard or push too fast is of great importance. The rate at which they push is determined by the ability of the class to accelerate. In many instances, students accelerate faster if there is a common bond between student and teacher. The student must be able to think of the teacher as a friend as well as an instructor.

Students complain that the course is too hard, but teachers usually acquire confidence enough to help the students overcome this obstacle and many others as well. If they had not removed the stumbling blocks, where would students be?

As you turn the pages of the 1970-71 annual, let it serve as a memento of our activities at Brunswick Senior High School.

As you view the pictures in your annual, and while you secure autographs from your classmates and teachers, never lose sight of the purpose of this yearbook.

You see, the annual is a story—a story about you and the happenings during the 1970-71 school year. It encompasses those things that are, and that which should be. It fathoms the dreams, the hopes, and the fears of this generation. It is you, on parade.

The clubs and organizations at Brunswick Senior High School are many and varied. There is one for almost every interest a student has. Some organizations consist of people with a common interest or a common choice of careers. Membership to some clubs is honorary or restrictive, while some are made up of all the students who take a certain course.

Why does a student join a club? He may simply want to be involved. For the reserved student, a club offers the opportunity to belong. He may be seeking personal achievement. A club is an outlet for the talented. He may want to make his school better through service in his club. Participation in club activity contributes to the improvement of the school and the outside community.

... THE GANGS

The Student Cooperative Association

The Student Cooperative Association of BSHS, organized in 1969, is one of the most dynamic organizations in the school. It is an integral part of the total school program and participates in the shaping of its government.

This year's council consists of more than thirty representatives and officers who were elected by the student body and have worked diligently to improve the status of the school.

Sandra Tucker, President; Michelle Whitehurst, Treasurer; Lynne Taylor, Vice-President; Virginia Wilson, Reporter; Myrtle Palmer, Secretary.

National Honor Society

Janice Matthews, President; Lawrence Coleman, Vice-President; Ava Bowen, Recording Secretary; Sandra Tucker, Corresponding Secretary; Barbara Ingram, Treasurer; Ruth Clarke, Reporter; and Mr. Gary Dalton, Advisor.

The great honors and privileges accompanying the tappings of incoming members of the National Honor Society is belittled by many. The minimum qualifications for membership are often difficult to maintain by today's above average students. Yet there are those in every school who know how to do their work well and are recognized for their achievements by membership in the National Honor Society.

The purpose and criteria of this Honor Club are very well expressed in its induction ceremonies each spring to all eligible juniors. The criteria is outlined explicitly to those who demonstrate strong qualities in Leadership, Scholarship, Service, and Character.

This year the seventeen members of NHS have taken on several projects. The sale of fruit cakes between Thanksgiving and Christmas characterized efforts of NHS to become financially able to carry out its goals. Members collected Christmas toys, food and money from the faculty and the student body for needy families of Brunswick County. The NHS gives a college scholarship to a deserving senior member.

Future Teachers Of America

The Future Teachers of America has been organized to further the interests of our "Teachers" to be. Our advisors are Mrs. Kiser, and Mrs. Russell and they help keep us going. The main purpose of the FTA is to keep our Young people on the right road once they get on it. As a whole "It's FTA, All The Way."

Officers: Gloria Bruce, President; Vice-President, Ava Bowen; Susan Walthall, Secretary; Sharon Will, Treasurer.

Science and Mathematics Club

John Evans, President; Mary Moore, Secretary; Timothy Orgain, Vice-President; Diane Washington, Reporter.

Opening students' minds to different areas of Science and Mathematics is the main objective of the newly organized Science and Mathematics Club. Other objectives include encouraging students to prepare for competition against other schools in Science and Mathematics and to strive for academic excellence. Members must maintain a C average and do a project in Science and Mathematics.

Future Business Leaders Of America

Judy Pulley, Ellen Anderson, June Washburn, Becky Lucy, Nancy Jones, Sharon Will, Norma Batte, Rita Daniel, Beth Jones, Kathy Rawlings, Diane Wray, Steve Thomas, Sarah Wilson, Kim Goodson, Blondell Webb, Effie Strange, Sarah Reavis, Myrtle Kelly, Barbara Coleman, Stella Coleman, Virginia Wilson, Crystal Wyatt, Deloris Williams, Mazie Stokes, Betty Wise, Ella Ridley, Annie Dugger, Elva Mangrum, Hortense Singleton, Elizabeth Woodley, Roselyn Rice, Brenda Maclin, Christine Gillus, Matilda Brown, Barbara Meade, Deborah Fegans, Regina Brodnax, Karl Fegans, Timothy Walker, Arnetta Johnson, Janice Jones, Brenda Stone, Ralph Amos, Warren Inge, Gertie Adams, Yvonne Rowlett, Ann Dugger, Debra Edwards, Debra Taylor, Christine Stith, Ruby Morris, Marion Walker and Mrs. H. J. Coleman, Sponsor.

The Future Business Leaders of America is an organization primarily for those interested in a career in the business field. Membership in the FBLA offers opportunity to study and develop qualities and character of an efficient clerical employee. Students who wish to join must be taking at least one business subject. Members develop a strong, enterprising leadership and the ability to compete honorably with their colleagues on the local, state, and national levels.

The Forensic Club offers students an opportunity in public self-expression. The areas in which they may participate are debate, original oratory, prose and poetry reading, spelling, extemporaneous public expression, and dramatic sililoquy. This year the club campaigned for members and increased its membership from 15 to 60. It is hoped that these new members will carry on the good work begun last year.

The Library Club is one of the foremost academic clubs at Brunswick Senior High School. With an all girl membership of twenty, the club strives to maintain its position in extracurricular activities.

Membership is restricted to those students who are willing to devote a free period to hard honest bookwork. Usually the members assist the main librarian with her task. Besides this, the girls assume the responsibility of circulating and shelving books, issuing permission slips, cleaning shelves, and some clerical work.

However, all of their duties are not laborious. The assistants receive extensive instruction in the library profession and organization of a library.

Incorporated in the library club is the Audio-Visual Aids center. Even though this phase of the club is not fully developed, it will soon become an integral part of Brunswick Senior High School activity.

The Latin Club is a student organization which places emphasis on character, scholarship, and participation. Character is exemplified in the good behavior of all Latin Students. It's a well established fact that all Latin Club members must maintain a good average; incidentally, Mrs. Wilson, checks report cards every six-weeks. The stress placed on participation is and has been demonstrated by the amazing ability of the Latin Club to raise money for pet projects. There most recent project has been a one week trip to the Bahamas. Isn't it amazing that the Latin Club is the largest organization in Brunswick Senior High School?

MONOGRAM CLUB

The ultimate goal of athletes at Brunswick Senior High is that big monogram "B". The "B" not only displays excellence in sports, but months of practice, determination, and hard work.

Home games bring the sight of off-season players selling programs at entrances in an effort to finance the club and to aid the school athletic department.

Membership requirements include lettering in one of the varsity sports and passing at least four subjects. Athletes who qualify are put through the humiliating and embarrassing feats of initiation such as singing birthday wishes to trash cans, and pushing pennies down the hall on hands and knees with their noses.

At the end of the season the athletic department branches hold a banquet and awards monogram letters, pins, and trophies to deserving athletes. Senior Keys are given at the end of the school year on Awards Day.

"Gee, you'd think we were losing the ball-game!"

Distributive Education Clubs Of America

The high school Distributive Education program prepares individuals for careers in wholesale, retail, and service occupations. It also provides practical training and experience for pupils who plan to continue their education in marketing, merchandising, and related fields.

Distributive Education is an exciting and ever-changing program. It strives to keep up with what is happening in the world of fashion, business, manufacturing and retailing. It presents a challenging and rewarding future to anyone with a sincere interest and desire to get ahead and succeed.

FHA And Needlework

This year the FHA and Needlework Clubs are quite busy. The FHA girls are mainly interested in improving the looks of our school. One of the first projects of the year was to put up and decorate the school's Christmas tree. Also refinishing the furniture and fixing up the teacher's lounge is another project of the girls.

It's not surprising to walk into a classroom and see girls puzzling over their knitting. These girls are members of the newly formed Needlework Club. It's composed of girls who have an interest in things such as knitting, crocheting, and embroidering.

The main purpose of these clubs is to be creative and helpful. You'd be surprised at some of the things they can do!

The FFA, under the leadership of Mr. N. S. Burwell is making great strides in developing better citizens for America. Our emphasis is not only on agriculture, but leadership, cooperation and community service.

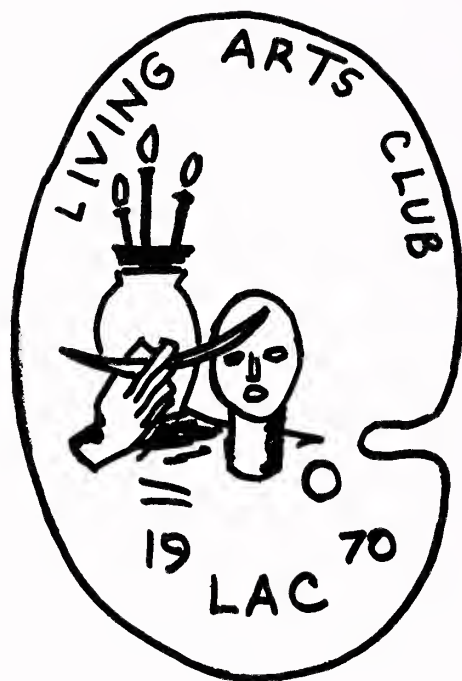

Planned activities for the year are the following: trips to the 1970 State Fair in Richmond, and Union Bag Company in Franklin, participation in local and federal competitions which include public speaking, forestry, tractor driving, and dairy judging, and the most exciting initiation of new members, the "Green Hands."

National FFA Week is observed in February. At this time we pause to renew our interest and evaluate our progress.

The Living Arts Club

Jim Ellis, Advisor

The Living Arts Club provides opportunities for students who like to paint, act, write, sing and dance to express themselves creatively. The teacher-artist shares his knowledge and experience with the student-artists in a relaxed studio type setting.

Visits to museums, sponsoring school assemblies and exhibitions, decorating hallway bulletin boards and viewing and discussing films on Art and Artists are some of the activities which provide creative avenues for self-expression and enjoyment in the Arts.

Band in concert formation on stage.

The band has been very busy this year with football half-time shows, parades and concerts. With the combination of the junior and senior high school bands, the program was very active. BSHS also hosted the District III Band Festival in March and we saw and heard many fine bands at this program. With the presentation of three concerts, our audiences were able to see what the band had to offer.

The Name of the game is Sports.

The Place is Brunswick Senior High School.

The Time is 1970-71.

The Action is with the Team.

As changes take place all around us, there are indeed changes in our competitive quality. This is illustrated by our participation of the Mighty Bulldogs in Fun and Games. This competition and participation make us conscious of our goodness in sportsmanship, and has kept us up with the changing times. As the time moves along so does the team. Our team has been outstanding this year in all the sports. Their skills and techniques shall follow them all the days of their lives and dwell in the school forever.

Joseph Pearson and Robert Boone, a pair of seniors who triggered Brunswick's devastating defense, head the 1970 All-Southside District Football Team.

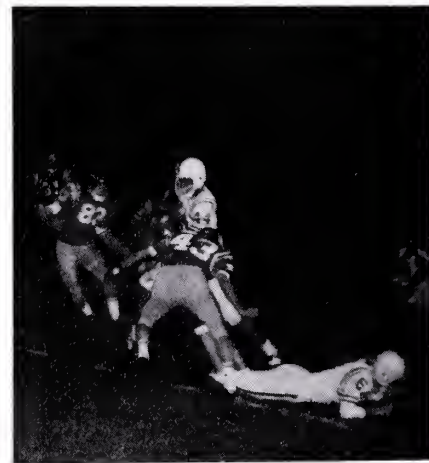

The All-District Team, chosen by the coaches of the Southside District, included three Brunswick Senior High players. Joining Pearson and Boone on the squad was defensive safety David Wilson, a junior.

Joseph Pearson, defensive captain and an All-District candidate in 1969, was chosen at the tackle slot, on both the offensive and defensive teams.

Robert Boone and David Wilson were chosen as linebacker and safety, respectively, on the defensive squad.

The defensive players selected were instrumental in limiting the opposition to 12.8 points per game including three shutouts.

Honorable mentions also went to Bulldog stars, senior halfback William Drumgold and junior end Stanley Stith. Congratulations to the All-District nominees!

The Season in Review

In late summer, the Bulldogs began practicing for what was to be the best season in B.S.H.S. football history.

The Bulldogs began their football season on Sept. 4; they smashed Amelia. The three big ones, Joe Pearson, Howard Calendar, and Herbert Wynn, were out to show themselves as the best tacklers in Brunswick Senior High School History. Billy Short made his debut as a small, but able quarterback; David Wilson proved to be a long range runner. Calvin Seward and Steven Burns popped up as the touchdown boys of the season. All-Around man William Drumgold did just what the term "All-Around" implies.

On Sept. 11, the Bulldog's Drive for victory was curbed by Goochland. However, on the following week the Bulldogs made a comeback, defeating Prince Edward, 8-0, on a 70 yd. interception and run back by David Wilson.

Finally, the time came for the first conference game of the season; the Bulldogs opponent was Bluestone. Wilson and Bruce made mighty attempts which led to touchdowns. But Bulldog aspirations were brought to nought: Bluestone defeated Brunswick 27-12. B.S.H.S.'S next adversary was Matoaca, the team handing Brunswick its only shut-out of the Season.

The next Bulldog challenger was Nottoway. In the last part of the first quarter, Wilson made a run which set Brunswick up for a touchdown. Seward made the touchdown on the first play in the second quarter. Fortunately, our great defense prevented Nottoway from scoring. Our boys in blue had temporarily broken their losing streak.

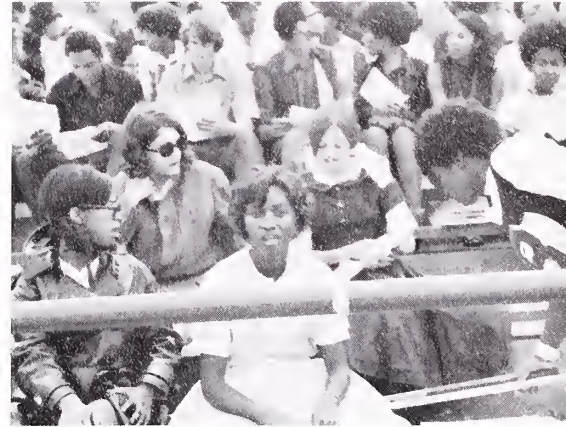

The Bulldogs received one more defeat. This one defeat came from Central. Although our boys lost, they played an excellent game. Touchdowns were made by Wilson, Drumgold, and Bruce. This game was one of those instances where time ran against the B.S.H.S. players.

On Oct. 23, the Bulldogs met the Eagles from Emporia. This game took on a special importance to B.S.H.S. fans for two reasons: (1) The two schools were rivals and (2) The importance placed on a possible victory might exhort the Bulldogs to end their losing streak. Early in the first quarter, Seward ran a touchdown. Our spectacular defense kept Greenville scoreless during the second quarter. With Burns and Drumgold gaining yardage and Inge recovering a fumble, Brunswick again scored. In the last few seconds of the fourth quarter, Greenville, scored. The whistle blew. The score 14-6; Brunswick had ended its losing streak.

The incentive that the Bulldogs now had, made a victory over Parkview easy. Early in the first quarter, Parkview scored and successfully completed a conversion. Burns came right baek with a B.S.H.S. touchdown. Short, with a quarterback sneak, pushed the B.S.H.S. score to 8. When Pearson threw the Parkview quarter back, all of Parkview's expectations of a touchdown were ended. Pearson continued to dump the quarterback, while Drumgold and Burns made great runs. Park View scored again, but Stith and Wilson retaliated by making touchdowns for the Bulldogs. The whistle blew with the score 20-14; another Bulldog victory.

The stage was now set for the annual B.S.H.S. homecoming game; The Bulldogs acted as host to the Statesmen from Randolph-Henry. The Bulldogs were really eager in the first quarter. They had three touchdowns, but they lost all three because of penalties. Finally, our team calmed down and scored. Burns, Seward, Wilson and Drumgold scored six points each. Incidentally, Wilson ran 55.5 yards for his touchdown. In the fourth quarter, Randolph-Henry scored. The whistle blew with the score board showing 26-6. Our Bulldogs had won.

There are a few general conclusions to be drawn from the 1970-71 football season. First, Brunswick had one of the best defensive lines in the whole district. Led by Joe Pearson, the line crushed enemy quarterbacks time after time. Second, our offensive backfield consisting of Billy Short at quarterback and David Wilson, William Drumgold, Calvin Seward, and Calvin Bruce as backs, never gave up when we needed them. Third, according to Coach Pinchbeck, this was to be "a season of record 6-4. This shows the great efforts of the team, the coaches, the managers, the helpers, and the fans. We issue a challenge to next year's football team. The challenge: Be first in the district.

FROM ALPHA:

I. Lawrence Coleman, Editor

The members of the yearbook staff place themselves in a very precarious position. They have the tedious but sometimes delightful job of putting together an annual. The annual is the representation of an entire school year. All students cherish the annual, but it is particularly revered by seniors. Because the annual means so much to so many people, the yearbook staff has to do a good job.

This year's editor is Lawrence Coleman. Lawrence has worked well and continuously on this year's annual, but without the help and cooperation of the entire yearbook staff the annual would not have been a success. The yearbook staff is particularly indebted to Mrs. Ellen McGeachy. Mrs. McGeachy has been an understanding and cooperative sponsor.

TO OMEGA.

The day-in-day-out routine of a high school year is one that covers many areas in student activity. The wide scope of interests and high academic standards provides preparation for life in our complex society. The combination of strength and knowledge makes the school invincible. Enthusiastic students excel with true school spirit in specific areas of scholarship and citizenship, which helps each individual to gain an aura of belonging.

In the following pictures you will journey with us through a most exciting and eventful season of Brunswick Senior High School seasonal activities.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

FROM THE EDITORS . . .

Few worthwhile projects are easy to organize and to complete. The publication of a yearbook is not one of the few. We met many obstacles in our enterprise, but the assistance of the below named people pulled us through. We can utter with satisfaction, "Our annual is among the elite." We say thank you in many languages.

MR. DAVID WINTER . . . You and your FACULTY somehow understood the importance of our frequent class interruptions for pictures, and announcements. Thank you for being so considerate.

MRS. ELLEN MCGEACHY . . . The distinct McGeachy insignia is stamped upon each page of this annual. Your cooperation and long hours of work has enabled us to publish a truly laudable annual. Thank you.

THE ADVERTISERS AND PATRONS . . . Unique touches have made our annual an exceptional one. We would like to thank each of you for your contributions which enabled us to add these unique touches. Dziekuze.

MR. PAUL UNDERWOOD . . . You're a busy man, but somehow you made it around in time for us to meet our deadline. Thank you for your excellent photographic help.

MR. JAMES ELLIS . . . Your artistic contributions on our division pages have greatly enhanced our publication. Merci.

THE STUDENTS OF BRUNSWICK SENIOR HIGH . . . Your support has not always been what we've hoped for, but you did help us make this annual a reality. Thank you.

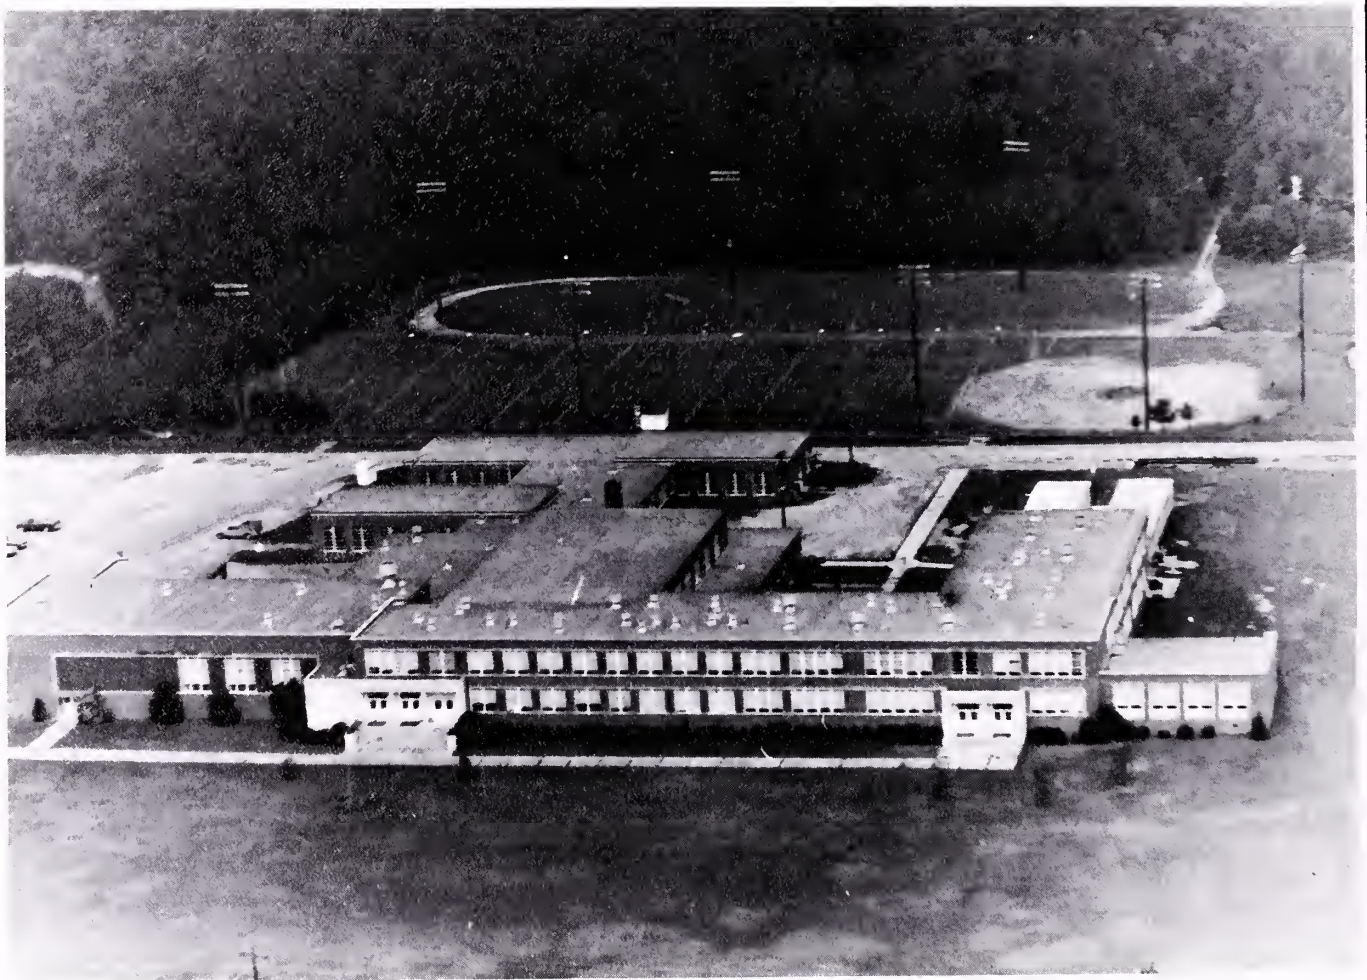

1971 SURREALISM STAFF . . . You sometimes seemed like a lazy bunch . . . absences from class seemed to be your only interest in the annual . . . nevertheless your work has made our annual what it is. Gracias.

We know you're an individual, and that's why we care.

There's never been anyone just like you, and there never will be again. That's why the opportunities of each new day are so exciting . . . and so challenging too. Because only you can determine just what you'll make of them.

Graduation is an important time to consider the possibilities. Not just for planning what to do and where to go, but who you'll be and why.

We're glad you're so concerned about the future . . . for it truly belongs to each of us, and the world needs people like you who care enough to get involved.

At The Bank of Brunswick we specialize in making that involvement count by giving practical financial backing to worthwhile opportunities.

We share your belief in the importance of the individual. We're building our future on the very same concept.
